Connectivity

It enjoys optimum connections due to three important airports that link it to the world: Guadalajara International Airport opens to Europe and South America, the Riviera Nayarit-Vallarta International Airport to California and Canada, and Tepic's airport, currently under renovation to become international.

Nayarit's roadways connect to strategic locations facilitating the transport of merchandise and passengers while its maritime infrastructure will become bolstered with the development of the Port of Nayarit towards a strategic connection between Latin America and Asia.
